T. W. JONES ON SHORT VISIT TO CHICAGO

Theodore W. Jones, Sr., former resident of this city, pioneer expressman—"the man who made moving a science"—but now a resident of Topeka, Kansas, was in Chicago a few days this week. Mr. Jones, who still has considerable business interests here, found little time for visiting. As usual he was in haste when accosted by a reporter for the Chicago Defender, but stopped long enough to declare "that you can almost see Chicago grow—it still leads the Northwest in every line and the progress of the race along business lines is marvelous."
