DEATH DUE TO NEGLIGENCE

Soldier Turned Out of a Camp Alger Hospital.

CLOTHED IN A BLANKET

Found Unconscious in the Road Lending to His Regimen—Exposure Brought on Spinal Meningitis, From Which the Victim Never Rallied—Other Similar Cases.

As the direct result of criminal neglect on the part of the medical authorities of the Second Division Hospital at Camp Alger Private George Mayes, Second Tennessee, died yesterday morning of spinal meningitis.

Mayes's case was published in The Times a few days ago, and the attention of the medical department called to the facts.

On Thursday of last week Mayes was discharged from the Second Division Hospital as cured of the measles. He had been ill for several weeks and was still convalescent when discharged.

Under the strange laws laid down by Col. Girard, a man must leave the hospital when discharged, as Mayes was given a rubber blanket with which to clothe himself and instructed to proceed to his regiment.

The Second Tennessee is quartered some distance from the division hospital, and nothing was heard from Mayes until some comrades found him lying naked in the road leading to his camp, with a rubber poncho over his head.

He was unconscious when found and never recovered consciousness, dying without knowing anything for five days.

Who is to Blame? It seems impossible to place the blame for this and other shameful cases of negligence which have occurred at Camp Alger.

had no clothes. The surgeons are not to blame, as their orders were to send him to his command anyway.

The division hospital is entirely distinct from the regimental hospitals, and yet the jealousy of the chief surgeon holds that the men must be sent there and come under any laws enforced there.

Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomachs have been suffering from it but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost much more than regular coffee. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15c and 25c per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.
